

Seminar Presentation Objective

The objective of the seminar presentation is to share with others (technology transfer) the findings of a research and study of a particular concept that applies to the senior project.

As such, no extra work is required as far as learning curve is concerned when preparing this presentation.

The extra work required is the packaging of this knowledge base into a power Point presentation in a professional manner.

The presentation also addresses which research findings are applied to the design.